Instruction by Mary Reilly

Mary Reilly is a full time professional artist who has been painting in Oils since 1974. Mary is best known for her life-like portrayals of people, pets, and wildlife, and she has proven herself to be an accomplished artist with many other subjects as well.

Mary's painting style is an interesting range between soft-focus realism and impressionism. The sense of mood and emotion she brings into her art sets her apart from other artists.

Make Up Classes

As with any group class situation, the cost of the session pays for a place in class whether or not every class will be attended. Therefore, make up classes are not necessarily provided. However, when possible, students can make up a missed class by attending one of the other classes that they are not signed up for. Make up opportunities are on an "easel available" basis.

Extra Painting Time

Occasionally students may choose to attend one of the classes they are not signed up for, so they may get in extra painting time. This will be permitted on an "easel available" basis. The cost will be an additional $25 payable that day.
